Overview of Halloween Horror Nights at Universal Studios

What is Halloween Horror Nights?

Halloween Horror Nights is an annual event hosted by Universal Studios, drawing horror fans from across the nation. This event transforms the park with themed haunted houses, live scare actors, and specially designed scare zones that bring popular horror films and original concepts to life. It typically runs on select nights from late September through early November, offering a unique experience distinct from the park's regular daytime operations.

Event Hours and Impact on Regular Park Operations

During Halloween Horror Nights, Universal Studios Hollywood operates with extended evening hours, often starting the event after the regular park closes. This results in a split day where guests can enjoy the daytime attractions before the horror-themed festivities begin at night. Due to the event's nature, certain areas of the park may be closed or restricted during the event hours, which can affect access to some rides and themed lands.
